The Maharashtra National Law University Aurangabad, one of the newly established NLUs, is located just outside the main city, spread over 50 acres and is set against the backdrop of lush green hills. The campus includes a freshly completed and functional 'Centre of Excellence' building, a frequently updated library, which is home to a near-exhaustive collection of books, a gym, a dining hall, student centres, open garden-like settings, 5 storey hostel buildings for both male and female students (to be completed in the coming months) and the provision of access to most of the renowned databases. ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

General

Attorney's Bar is collaborating with Maharashtra National Law University, Aurangabad, and the Indian Institute of Arbitration and Mediation (IIAM), in order to organize a massive 4-day workshop on Mediation. The workshop is aimed at giving budding law students an insight into the technicalities and practicalities of Mediation. IIAM also provides training programs that allow you to accredit and impanel yourself in different countries.

Through a brief span of 4 days, a deep insight will be shared, throwing light on the significance of Mediation. From an introduction to Mediation, to what happens in a Mediation session, to an actual mock demonstration to finally gaining an understanding of practical implementation, the power-packed session would be enough to provide in-depth knowledge.

The workshop will be a beneficial addition to one's list of experiences. We look forward to conducting a successful workshop and contributing our few cents to the fraternity.

Structure

Ø Day 1: Introduction to Mediation

The process of how mediation happens and the need for it will be explained. Several experiences will be shared with the participants, giving them a deep insight into the world of mediation.

Ø Day 2: How a National-level Mediation Goes On

The second day will focus on how a national-level mediation works. What a mediation competition is and how to participate in it would be focused on. The essential elements required for a successful team and what each team member needs to do to prepare and give their best will also be discussed.

Ø Day 3: Mock Demonstration
